Items for individual consideration

- a. Master Plan Update: Robert talked about the Burditt open house scheduled for Tuesday, Nov 10th in the evening. He will have call at end of week to finalize plans. Robert mentioned that he sent the draft document of Master Plan and asked for feedback from committee members. Hoping to obtain more input from residents at open house and farmer’s market. Suggested projects were numbered but don’t necessarily correlate with information collected from surveys. Talked about researching other possible amenities such as skate park, basketball, pickle ball, tennis, possible hiking trail to connect with Houston Parks Board’s White Oak Trail expansion plan, etc. Want to increase awareness of plan and give opportunity for residents to give feedback before open house. Doris recommended that cost of projects are not included on flyers. Ashley asked if survey would only be available online and expressed concerns that some residents may not have the ability to fill out electronic survey. Suggested that paper surveys may be needed. Also voiced concerns over duplication – that some residents may fill out surveys more than once.

- b. Youth Committee Member Application Joshua Rodrigue
Application will be put out to the community after the October 19th council meeting. The person selected will be appointed to serve January to June. Doris asked who would make the selection from the applicants. Josh said that the Committee members would.
Ashley asked how the position was being advertised and suggested an addition to the application asking the applicant to describe how they have used the parks.

Staff briefings

Parks

Robert reported that the shade structure installation at Carol Fox park was completed.

The splash pad is in the manufacturing stage and the installation plan will follow shortly. Ashely asked if the splash pad was open year round. It is not but would possibly consider changing that based on feedback. Clark Henry play structure is in the plan for this year. Robert will get some designs and ask for feedback.

Recreation

Josh: Food trucks at park on Fridays were successful and should add about 1K in revenue. The Farmer's market had the best attendance since February. Next weekend will start having it twice a month. Question about how farmer's market is being advertised. New banners around town and on the new gateway marquees. Will advertise on back of the mayor's newsletter. Ashley suggested advertising on Nextdoor.

Kids Halloween drive-in movie is almost to capacity. The adult Halloween movie will be a classic Dracula movie and some spots are still available.

There are about 12 residents who have expressed interest in Pickle ball. Looking to implement the activity by the end of month at Clark Henry Pavilion. Need to get nets and to lay down lines.

Arbor Day first Friday of November. Looking to get some trees to give away to residents along with information about taking care of the trees. Have a sponsor – hoping to get more sponsors.

Planning to have a day camp during the 2 week Christmas break for 6-11 year olds. Expecting between 15-30 kids. The staff will consist of employees who have worked as lifeguards at the pool and are already CPR certified.

Committee description update - Robert Basford stated that he made changes based on feedback from last meeting, and worked with City Secretary to formulate resolution. Terms of office were updated and put into resolution format for vote.

Future agenda item request

Ashely requested that the discussion for change of location of the Farmer's Market be added to the agenda for next month.

Next Meeting date

Nov 4th – there will be voting equipment in Civic Center, so may have to have the meeting at a park or at the golf course. Robert will send update on location.

James made a comment about the stance of the city of not taking on additional debt to fund projects.

Adjournment

Motion made to adjourn meeting by Nora. Motion seconded by Bridget.

Climbing wall pricing is based on two factors: model and configuration (panel height x panel width). The climbing walls can be expanded overtime as programming and budget grow.

Maximizing the height of the climbing wall to your water depth is typically recommended before expanding the width, as it's more economical to expand the wall across rather than up. Here we illustrate the most common configurations. Ask us for details about custom configurations.

One Panel Wide

A one panel wide wall is an ideal starter wall to promote climbing and offer a unique climbing feature to the facility. A single wide wall safely accommodates 1 climbers and can be installed in pool depths with as low as 5' of water.

Panels	Climbing Height	Poolside Length	Min. Water Depth	Drop Zone
5 Panel High	16' 5" Tall	15' 3"	9' 0"	12' 0"
4 Panel High	13' 1" Tall	13' 3"	7' 0"	10' 0"
3 Panel High	9' 10" Tall	13' 3"	6' 0"	9' 0"

Two Panel Wide

A two panel wide wall is ideal for a facility looking to offer more climbing terrain laterally for one climber at a time.

Panels	Climbing Height	Poolside Length	Min. Water Depth	Drop Zone
5 Panel High	16' 5" Tall	18' 6"	9' 0"	12' 0"
4 Panel High	13' 1" Tall	16' 6"	7' 0"	10' 0"
3 Panel High	9' 10" Tall	16' 6"	6' 0"	9' 0"

Two Panel Wide - Separated

Selecting 2 walls that are separated also allows for 2 climbers at a time at a reduced rate than a 3 panel wide configuration. Teens will enjoy racing each other to the top! Each individual wall is suited for 1 climber at a time.

Panels	Climbing Height	Poolside Length	Min. Water Depth	Drop Zone
5 Panel High	16' 5" Tall	24' 6"	9' 0"	12' 0"
4 Panel High	13' 1" Tall	21' 6"	7' 0"	10' 0"
3 Panel High	9' 10" Tall	21' 6"	6' 0"	9' 0"

Three Panel Wide

For added programming opportunities, a three panel wall is a great option to accommodate 2 climbers at a time on the same wall. Teenagers particularly enjoy racing each other up the wall on this configuration. When only one climber is present, they have space to climb not only up but also across the wall.

Panels	Climbing Height	Poolside Length	Min. Water Depth	Drop Zone
5 Panel High	16' 5" Tall	21' 10"	9' 0"	12' 0"
4 Panel High	13' 1" Tall	19' 10"	7' 0"	10' 0"
3 Panel High	9' 10" Tall	19' 10"	6' 0"	9' 0"

Four Panel Wide

As a premium configuration, a four panel wall is a great option to accommodate 2 climbers at a time on the same wall while giving additional climbing space for each participant. When only one climber is present, they have ample space to climb up as well as across the wall.

Panels	Climbing Height	Poolside Length	Min. Water Depth	Drop Zone
5 Panel High	16' 5" Tall	25' 0"	9' 0"	12' 0"
4 Panel High	13' 1" Tall	23' 0"	7' 0"	10' 0"
3 Panel High	9' 10" Tall	23' 0"	6' 0"	9' 0"
